Intuitive resource monitoring

Dextrose-2 comes with intuitive load monitoring and display. The 'Happy', 'Serious' and 'Stressed' icons on the frame intuitively illustrate the real time load on the computer. This is especially useful on the XO-1 laptop, since it serves as a useful tool for users to monitor if they have too many operations running at once.

Happy: Indicates that most resources on the computer are free and it should perform smoothly.

Serious: Indicates normal resource usage, however launching more activities may slow up the system.

Stressed: Computer could be very slow to respond. Try to close some activities to free up resources or wait for an operation to finish.
